

MSc Shipping Operations

In our attempt to further enhance your skills, Sea and Beyond is proud to present to you a webinar by Solent University, Southampton on the MSc Shipping Operations.

It is an exclusive international program offered through distance learning and is ideal for persons from shipping background.

Key points covered in the webinar will be:

- ✓ Overview of the university, city and location
- ✓ Aim of the Course and its philosophy
- ✓ The structure of the course including Curriculum, Pedagogy, exams, attendance and internships
- ✓ Application requirements including tuition fees and living costs
- ✓ How the key courses add value to the life of a participant including the company connect, placements and typical job roles
- ✓ Relevance of this course to mariners
- ✓ How Distance learning would work and whether a person can do this while sailing
- ✓ Connect with the mariner alumni

This webinar is for all those who are looking to enhance his/her skill sets with focus in Shipping domain and international focus

The webinar will be presented by Dr Capt. Nadeem Anwar, Course manager for this course.

Dr Capt. Nadeem Anwar is a highly qualified and experienced British Master Mariner and Fellow of The Nautical Institute, qualified to post graduate level, with over 12 years of teaching and managing experience. Presently employed with Solent University as a Course Director. He has worked as Director & Managing Partner for a leading international marine training provider from the USA a Consultancy/Logistics company in Bahrain as Managing Director. Recent work includes development of Training Course for Ship Handling, Ship-to-Ship Transfer, Pilotage and VTS Authority, Advanced Tanker Training. Previously spent over 10 years at a UK Nautical College from Lecturer to Curriculum Manager and 14 years at sea with command experience.

Kunal Anand is head of subject group for Maritime Business & Operations. He is an ex-merchant navy officer. Having done his initial seafaring qualifications from Singapore Maritime Academy, he then completed his senior qualifications from Warsash. He sailed mostly on crude and product tankers of various sizes around the world. Later on, in his career he completed MSc in International Maritime Studies (Shipping, Ports & environment) from Solent university.

Kunal is Fellow of the Higher Education Academy, Associate Fellow of Royal Institute of Navigation and a Member of the Nautical Institute. He is currently the Chair of IASST, UK Chapter, member of the Professional development committee of Nautical Institute and Member of the Merchant Navy Training Board, Technical committee.

The webinar would consist of the following:

- A 30-35 minute presentation by Kunal where he would discuss the above topics.
- 20-25 minutes of Q&A wherein the presenters would take questions
- A quick feedback survey about the webinar